

Scholastic ScienceFlix Database Quickstart Guide

This database is accessible at school by click directly on its link on the SMS Media Center Website under the “Research Resources” tab. To access this database from home you will need a username and password. Username: scrantonms Password: flix

Homescreen.
You may use the search box to search for a specific term, or click on the topics listed in different categories.

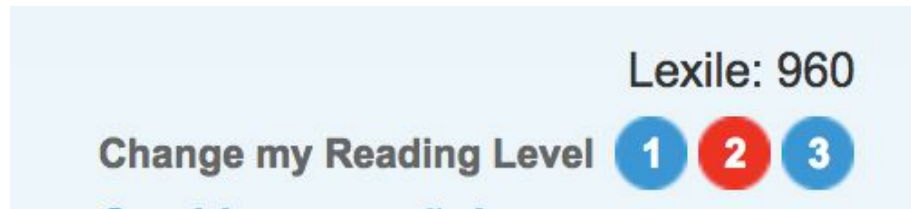

Topic Homepage.
“Read It” is a broad topic overview.
“Watch It” is a topic overview on video.
“Dive Deeper” contains subtopics that have additional articles and videos.

The “Read It” article comes with multiple options along a top menu bar. You may look at the Table of Contents, have the article read aloud, look up a word, e-mail the article to yourself, or print the article.

The “Read It” article allows you to change the lexile by choosing a level in the upper right-hand corner.

The homepage for the topic has a menu on the left that has multiple options. The first three options already show up on the homepage.

“Explore More” and “Related Websites” provide additional resources.

